Besides doing good damage against your base, what other reason would anyone want to buy a MLRS? I know some of their missiles home, but usually just 1 to 3 at a time. (and when I get in mrls, my * missiles never home), unless they're given better lock on properties, they're not all that good in my opinion. Except for cheap attacks from inside your base (several maps) and just outside the base. The best map to use mrls's on is hourglass...
