Although I am wicked bad in-game on either, and can map/mod for both types.Generals has a lot of flaws, but it still is very fun, and I am sure mod makers are going to make that game own. Renegade on the other hand is a very fun game but has a bunch of flaws as well, and could have been made a lot better.Personally I am going to reinstall Soldiar of Fortune 2, and Half life again and see whats up with them now a days.I have every C&C game and will continue to follow that trend. I am never leaving the community, and will continue to mod/map the games in my interest.And my interest jumps around. Once I was heavily into mapping for RA2, then I went back to TibSun, then Renegade, then Tib Dawn, then RA2 again.So I will always be doing stuff.But I got a wicked mod idea for generals, and it should change the game a bit, but also keep it a little the same.The HIVE will come soon.
