Basicly, I need something that uses the existing male skelleton and all that crap (so it works right out of the box)It should be of a scientist dude in one of those "protective suits" like one might wear in a clean-room environment. Should have an ID badge on the front. No markings (GDI or NOD). Visor should look like that black reflective plastic stuff that means u cant see through it (i.e. you wont be able to see the persons face). Should look like there is filters or something to filter the air but there shouldnt be an airtank on the back or something. This person will be unarmed so dont bother with anything to do with weapons. Make the suit white (fits in with the existing scientists in renegade).
