thanks guys thats really really helpful. Sgt. May do the ripples move too? or do they stay in the same place with the water texture moving over them? So far i managed to get the water flowing towards the island from all sides. I made a cylinder and set it to linear offset and it works lol. i thought it would all go in the same way but noooo i put o8.wave on it and it looks good. But the waves arent 3d or anything. i'll try the rippler modifier. quote: click watermaterial, press m, goto pass 1, goto shader, blend mode--> add thanks for the transparency help, my only problem now is that it's a bit too see through lol any way i can change that so its more half and half
