ACTUALLY... Einstein never said it wasnt possible his theory did... although time travel to the past is not yet possible in our present technology we can actually send someone to the future of course we would never know if it works lol and plus the supplies needed etc. BUT its still possible... for more information on this just read these books: Time Travel in Einsteins Universe by J. Richard Gott and The Universe In a Nutshell by Stephen Hawking Im probly going to study Quantum Mechanics in college (if they accept me LOL)And btw if you make a time machine just to go see something(not a person tho) its ok but you cant kill anyone actually u could but it would have to be at random and not meditated or u would make a paradox lol so time travel is very unstable even if u just wanted to look at something...
