Ok, in going from Renegade to TD, neither are:-the refineries-the MCV's-the barracks-the hand-the airstrip-the harvesters-the buggies (debateable)-light tanks-obelisk-humvees (they look like limos to me in TD lol)-and finally Stealth black hands (???)So rather than keep thing completely accurate to the way some people did things 6 years ago (!), why not use a little imagination and better the things that the technology just wasn't around to do.I think it's a great looking Tesla coil, although it could proably use a little re-texturing to make it more "soviet" like.If I were gonna retexture it to make it fit better into the RA universe, I would texture the base red (just the very bottom), and give it a red ball up top, but keep the reflectiveness. Because right now it kinda fits more into the TD universe.but looks friggin fantastic.
