at least you werent finished with it......5 minutes into a project isnt bad.save often and use new names....model_01,model_02,model_03....etc.that way if you do have a crash you can always go back to the last good version of your work.start over and save often....that's my suggestion.Eric.