"It was becoming a dream come true for the talented young star, until one fateful night......."Anyways   , Heres what I've been brewing in RenX the past few days, my take on the TS GDI War Factory. Its the second largest TS building I've made so far, The bay for tank construction is twice has high as the original bay, and can be accsesed from inside. The Con bay also has a second story loft to stand on, just for the fun of it. This is the first building I've made that has new active animations, five cooling fans will spin around. Heres what I have so far, most of the basic work is done, now I'm just adding detail and working out the textures. Total polly count at the moment is around 1,500.   I've a long since my 16,00+ polly power plant.
