I have a gf4 ti4400 and only get 15fps (everything full including anisotropic + 4x antialiasing + texture smoothing) if i use the 40.72 but when on the 40.41 and same settings I get a minimum of 85 and max of 130fps.In 3d mark 2002se I get close to 1500 more points using 40.41.Just thought I'd put in my 2cents worth. cyawouldnt say it's crap -- everyone's rig is different --your milage may vary...they seem pretty speedy to me...
