Ok I am 75\% done with a map called "Tiberium Garden". But I learned there already is a "Garden" which is really "Tiberium Garden". So I want to choose a different name. I would like to hear suggestions. But first, let me give you a idea of what the map is. This is a temperate map with good detail, and base spacing, GT and Obelisk is a yes. There are only 2 ways to get in each others base by vehicle, 1 is on land past a green glowing tiberium meteor. The other way is underground, through a underground cave (where the bottom of the meteor is visible, because it has punched trough to cave ceiling, hanging above. Around the meteor on the ceiling is a garden of Tiberium Crystals. under that, a murky pond. near the meteor is a little science station, with a ladder that goes up a pipe to the surface, this pipe becomes an observation tower where you can find a sniper rifle spawn point. This observation tower leads to a series of catwalks surrounding the meteor, supported by the canyon walls around the meteor above ground. (a good place to snipe engineers that are repairing tanks shooting at your buildings, out of sight from base defences) That map isnt complicated and should prove very fun. So what should I call it? CNC_Meteor?
