Im sure some of you people have placed the rpg or the card game(card game is a little mini type version).This will be based on it.FOr those of you who havent:It takes place in the post-apocoliptic future. All of the governments are gone, governments are all defined in city-states.All of the city-states are walled in, and the only safe place.Outside of the city states, no defense except yourself is there. Biker gangs descend upon people traveling and loot them. Everyone's cars have some type of weapon. The sports in this age are bloody. Death is not a problem. THe most common, is car dueling. The drivers arm their cars with the money they gain. The arena is a bloody place of death. You can either disable or destroy the enemy vehicles. Truckers taking the cars and supplies form city state to city state are all armed, with VERY heavy weapons.Life is very hard, think of this as a description:One of the picutres in the game depicts a mother with a baby, and a purse.ALongside the purse is a sidearm and 2 clips.THIS is at the grocery store.I don't feel like typing everything out, so if you want to know more, look around.Here is some info on it.I'll get some more info on it soon.Staff Wanted:ModellersAnimatorsSkinnersMappersCodersSomeone who has played Car Wars(recently) to be the story writer.I can do alot of that, But I can't do this alone. I will be constructing a webpage soon, and I'll post it with more info when I can.
