Seriously what the !@#$, if not release them they could have at least updated us on their condition or something. Maybe a screen or two. But no. All they gave us so far (almost 2 months now) was that stinking Dedicated server crap that I can't even install because it won't unlock the "Next" button after I type in my perfectly norman/working/payed for CD key. What the !@#$ if up with that. I redownloaded it twice and the same thing. I typed the cd key with "-" and without "-", but still did'n let me install it. I'm not weining or anything, but I think the lack of info for the last month is !@#$ed up.
