"Poorer work"

Wow, that's a new one. More work goes into this than you could imagine. We're constantly creating new things that people never thought possible with Renegade, but I guess that's because this isn't renegade anymore, at all.

NeoSaber alone does more work than the Reborn team, nevermind the rest of us, who are constantly improving models, textures, and gameplay, while creating new things along the way. And then we have to come here and argue like this, but still manage to get 10x the amount of work done...
