Aprime- First, I'd like to correct that stupid mistake I have made when I said that french was the second language of Florida, it's not, obviously spanish is and french comes in third.

Coming from a Spanish person, I agree.

Aprime- I'd like to hear some news from the community.

Nothing unusual, the same Reborn bashing. But on teh funny side, REENALRT SUX!!!111

Aprime- Umbral, what's with that forest fire near Miami? Oh, AND HOW COME YOU WEREN'T THROWING EGGS AT MY VAN!?

Yearly forest fires. Happens every summer when the Everglades go dry and lightning ignites the sawgrass.

As for the eggs, my mom prepared a large omelette for us every day for 3 days. I didn't have enough eggs to hit every minivan that passed by, hoping to hit yours.

Aprime- I didn't take as many picture as I thought, actually, I thought that the landscape pretty sucked, the beach in the keys, well, Key Largo was a dump. So basicly all I have is those gorgeous in-flight pictures and the 27 pictures I took of a coral reif, they'll be published later since they're "old fashioned".

If you wanted landscape, you should have gone to the West Coast. They have gorgeous(sp?) beaches, and awesome scenery. The Tampa Bay suspension bridge at night is truly a sight to behold. Even I admit it, the East Coast sucks.

Aprime- Blue Moon needs a paint job and the pool's water tastes like urine.

Then you shouldn't have peed in it.

Aprime- Key West is full of roosters and homosexuals, harr.

'Fraid you're right. Key West is only good for the Key Lime Pie. The "beaches" aren't beaches at all; just cement blocks thrown into the water, so gullible tourists say "LEIK LUK A BEECH CUZ ITZ NEAR TEH SEA!!!"

Key Largo would have been a better place. Great fishing, boating, and beaches. Plus, it's fives times bigger than Key West.

Aprime- People barely know how to drive in the Miami area.

Think of the city as a maze, and the people who inhabit it as rats who drank cocaine-laced coffee. Ft. Lauderdale's suburbs rock.

Aprime- I went to Sea World ONCE, just because we already bought the tickets, it wasn't so bad.

One word: Kraken

AprimeYeah, and it's the last freakin' (sorry, but they stress me way too much to travel with them again) time that I travel with my family, time for a car!

That is why you ALWAYS take a friend with you, or your family will drive you insane.
