We've used a different version of this with much success for some time now. Get 3 SBHs, have two go to one building and throw their C4 while the 3rd stands outside and shoots a completely different building (building 2 for the sake of argument), causing EVA to voice a warning. The 2 SBHs inside the building are firing in the meantime, and the building will be dead in about 15-20 seconds. The 3rd SBH has meanwhile placed his C4 on a 3rd building, where the other two SBHs join him to remove it. One SBH can do 15% to a building at the MCT in 20 seconds with his rifle, so 3 of them plus C4 can kill a building in about 30 seconds or so. This is a little riskier than the plan you posted but you're still guaranteed to get at least one building, and possibly two. You'd be surprised how effective the EVA distraction is on many maps.
