Mad Ivan

So you bash them because you got fired...

I bash them because they have to have the most convoluted concept of a development process i have ever seen. They fired Beta Testers for talking about bugs too much. Correct me if I'm wrong, but aren't Beta Testers supposed to look for bugs?

Then, they make their initial release, originally promised to be BUG-FREE, mind you, and it had to be one of the most painful C&C experiences i've ever had, and that was just trying to INSTALL it.

Afterwards, it's the standard outrages and whatnot. Taking the Westwood logo. AoD explaining that all he cares about is the fanboys and yes-men who tell him he's doing such a wonderful job. Etc.

There's plenty of reasons to bash "Deezer Studios" and Reborn. You just have to know where to look.
