flyingfoxFunnily enough carl (or karl), someone was saying the same thing you are just over a week ago.

Quote:...and then play for a while and get OWNED BY SOME OF THOSE FOOLS NEEDING TO BOOST THEIR EGO WITH CHEATING. I would listen to all those who say "then play on another server" if those server wouldn't be the ones with the BEST PERFORMANCE. There really is NO server running renguard and having the performance that is NEEDED to enjoy a good game! I think an 1,2 mbit/s connection should be ENOUGH to enjoy a half-way lagfree Renegade match.

Quote:if you have above 40 sfps it really shouldn't matter gameplay wise once you dip below 30 is when the problems start happening.

This man has it right. Below 30 and not only will performance be degraded as it gets lower; it allows people to obelisk walk, jump over walls and the like.

O_o

its Karl with a K

ive not been active much in this cummunity lately but i pop back now and then and when i do its not long.. the gameplay these days is terrible.. my urge to play is killed within 5 minutes of playing one thing i am confused about.. with all these updates to make the gameplay better.. why isnt anybody thinking about server performance...

is it possible to edit the FDS to get better performance in anyway ? :S
