spoonyratliberatorIf I was good enough to get accused of cheating I wouldn't bitch about getting booted from a server on suspicion of cheating, I would either find another server or be a little more mature in addressing the moderators.

In other words:

"1 DON'7 CH337, 817CH" is not acceptable in response to an accusation.

That's just a retarded argument that incompetent mods use to back up the fact they can't tell skill from cheats

Actually, believe it or not, I've banned many people solely for being obnoxious. Whether they were cheating or not is irrelevant.

And on the subject of pathetic excuses, "skill" is often just a word that people such as yourself hide behind when banned for legitimate offenses like being a dickwad. (I'm not saying you/they ARE skilled, but just that you claim that's why you were banned.)
