xC4pRoXmost likely the cure for cancer was already discovered. But hey the doctors don't care, they don't want to cure, they want to make you live with it. We're probably never going to see a cure for cancer because there's no "profit" in the cure...which is pretty sad.

And ... you're a fucktard,

If doctors had the cure to cancer, they'd use it. They want to help sick people and make them live; they don't want to just take money from them.

If the insurance companies knew about a cure to cancer, they'd want people to have it so they wouldn't have to spend all that money on hospital stays and experimental therapy.

If hospitals had a cure to cancer, they'd want to give it to people so they could keep them alive, rather than having them die. Dead people don't pay bills.

Or are you such a fucktard that you honestly believe that someone who's dedicated his/her entire life to helping people would let them die to make a few extra bucks?
