j_ball430SEALYou're either blind or an idiot.

Funny, I was about to say the same to you.

There's nothing to it to make it look like metal. Also, have you ever taken a look at a child's toy? They're generally scratched up and have dirt deep into the scratches.

I run errands for my dad and I always end up picking up metal pieces and slabs of metal. I know what metal looks like. That pos texture is NOT metal.

Well, it's from a photgraphy I took myself. Photography of real metal... lol :rolleyes: And I am sure that you know better than the others what metal is just because you have some metal pieces at home... Damn, we are all idiots... You are the metal master !!! Hey when you go out, don't you see cars ? yeah me too... Guess what ! Cars have metals on it (yeah my dad has a car, I know what metal is... rofl !!! I even have my own car... I know what is metal and what is plastic -> it means I know what is a good critic and what is a moron like you.)

And for your answer ack, it tells me only one thing : sometimes you should stfu moron !
