tarsonis9When he referred to a 24 year old yelling at an 11 year old in a previous post, I believe he was referring to himself.

(The 11 year old, for the slow ones.)

Hey snipe, are your bizarre social tendencies a product of your misconjunctive pituitary gland?

(First person to tell me where this is from gets a prize)

Hold on a mo, you saying I'm 11? I am actually 24..

And there's some 11 year old with all this weaponry? I know handguns are illegal in London, oop, I mean Britain (yes there is some England outside of that shithole affectionately known as our capital, or to some, our entire country) but I'm sure there must be some concern raised about a kid owning firearms too.

I'm sorry if I pissed people off but I do understand that no-one here knows each other, and when accusations get slung they need some apparent basis.

Believe me or not, I really couldn't care, but this is why I got so offended.

The depression I have has lasted on and off for 10 years now. As a consequence I have no childhood that I can remember and as far as I know I could have been made as a 14 year old robot (like in the film "AI")

The lethal weapon is real, and the reason I have it is to remind me what I did once. Several pussy-assed suicide attempts failed, so I got a 9-bore shotgun (dodgy people in Liverpool, go look on a map.. it's a real place!) and shot myself in the lower stomach with it.

Needless to say I didn't die, but I am now wheelchair bound. My friends are few and far between as I can't get out much. I can't socialise because to be blunt I don't know how to. Now I can take a joke as much as the next guy and I've had my fair share of moron thrown at me, but when I get someone just hurling random and unnecessary insults at me for no real reason (correct me if I'm wrong) I do get one hell of an offended mood on me. The whole "I'll report you" was a knee-jerk reaction for which I won't apologise as I still feel that way.

Like I said before, believe me or not, or you could just post me a picture of my house... anything important that wants saying to me, then pm me.
