NodbuggerI believe the correct figures are 64% of Canadian teens think America is a force of evil and 74% of French Canadian teens thinks America is a force of evil.

Quote:In one telephone poll of teens between the ages of 14 and 18, over 40 per cent of the respondents described the United States as being "evil". That number rose to 64 per cent for French Canadian youth.

I don't blame the French Canadians one bit given the reception that has been fairly common from your country toward many of their French heritage.
