I honestly don't know.

I'm currently working 12 hour shifts at work, and my free limited time is getting less and less. I am not motivated very much to work on my free weekend time at this point of time. 2 Weeks ago I was very motivated (or rather, frustrated, by a girl which bought me back to renegade) and I worked a bit on it, and handed out win32 test builds to zunnie.

I know a few things that I need to fix. I won't be adding any new features other than the stuff already in. There is just no time. Sorry guys.

The general rule is that 1.36 will be out with CP1, and CP1 is still a few weeks away, because are waiting for map fixes.
