Now you're colorblind too... How can you mistake red for orange?

Furthermore, if you even look at the reference image, it's supposed to be a collection of extruded box shapes. That was what it was, and that's what it will stay as... Changing it to be something else would be, as they say, pulling a Reborn - making it like a steaming pile of shit.

Oh, and thanks. The textures shouldn't cease, since if they did they'd appear to be square blocks of tile on the exterior.

Yet again this is totally irrelevant to the point that Reborn sucks, has shitty quality and has a poor "mod team" working on it... Maybe you should address that instead of worrying about RA and myself.
