I humbly nominate myself, but I doubt I'd be able to drum up enough support for myself =\ . I have enough sense to moderate this forum, and to judge whatever is horribly off topic; I visit practically every day; and, I have no affiliations with either RenAlert or Reborn. Plus, I have a bit of modding knowledge myself.

All in all, I have nothing to gain from acquiring moderatorship--I just want to see this place for what it should be: a place to help others in modifying our title game--not a hostile, alienating environment.
