Enough talk about AircraftK.

I like the gun, it looks good. The texture looks like it's following the contour, although renders seem to make it look distorted at certain angles--it looks fine in the first photo. I echo Dante's and Renx's suggestions for showing a character render with the gun, though.

Wireframe does not show how you unwrapped a texture, it just shows the general shape and the vertices you have to work with--

Sir Phoenixx

The 512x512 bitmap showing the white lines over black that is painted over in photoshop shows how it's unwrapped.

So posting the texture bitmap would show how the model was unwrapped--that is what the request was.
