About making pics with character and guns...

PermaGrinAs would I. Once more characters start getting boned, I will pose them with their weapons for purchase icons and then hand them off to KB.

Danteactually, from the angles that he posted, the grip has an upside down smooth L shape to it, which would be totally acceptable why the grips look "distorted" when in all actuality, they are just following the contour of the weapon.

You are correct about the shape of the handle.

As for the Unwrap.

Im asking everyone, yes even my Rebron teammates, please stop turning these topics into Rebron does this, well RenAlert did that. It is becoming quite old. Im am tired of seeing everyone work (from mine to wrok from RenAlert that gets thrown in and everyones inbetween) being shit all over, because a few people hate each other.

I for one can not commint on the texture. If I could it has already been done so, since I see it before the public sees it. Also, in the end, it is better than I can do, so I am cool with it.
