I kinda like the untouched bridge. It looks nice. I know out here, when they finish an overpass, they dont immediately, shoot it with a gun, chip off a large corner, go psycho on it with a chainsaw, plant moss on it, and set off explosives in random places to scar the surface. They stay pretty much nice for a while, until they get Grafito-Tagged...

Something cryptic and stupid like that, that he and his possum can laugh about.

lol actually saw that on the support of a railroad overpass out here.
