As April Fools day comes to an end...

i have my "jerry springer" final thoughts....

Never before have i seen such idiocy and gullibility from this community, you all need to get up, go hose yourself off, and run around the block some, because the fowl smell of shit that is emanating from your bodies is intoxicating your brain to believe EVERYTHING that comes from this forum...

Now honestly... how dumb are some of you...

well, you have proven it here today, and remember...

when someone in a trailer park tells you that the stock market will climb 3000 points tomorrow... be sure to just send me the money...
