There he goes, flip flopping again... Should call him Retardin Kerry, since he and John have quite a bit in common.

Quote:He means that he wont post any more updates on THIS forum

Actually, no, what could be inferred is that he would stop them completely. Why?

Quote:I was thinking about no more updates because I got pissed of the posts of some dudes...

But I changed my mind. I will be less active on forums and let DeathHavoc do his moderator job.

So if he does the same thing on his own forums... Why shouldn't I believe that he was talking about his own, too?

It isn't my job to tell him how to fix something. You don't learn when you get bottle fed specific instructions on how to improve. If someone says "that looks too concrete like, because it has chunks that resemble concrete," logically one would think "if I remove the concrete looking chunks, it won't look concrete!" You dumbass...
