Who knows why it was in the Mod Forum... :rolleyes:

Because I was directing this post to DJlaptop, maker of wolspy, and I felt the mod forum would have been a better place because that is where the original wolpsy post was... come to think of it the best place would have been win32... this really doesn't concern users, only server owners. Regular posters probably would have said something along the lines of "gamespy is gay" just like what you did...
