Geez, what is this, with two mods facing off against each other? For those of you who can't yet fully grasp it, THIS IS RETARDED.

Modding isn't about being better than someone else. It's about producing something fun that you can share with others. Any of this taking sides nonsense should stop right now, and you should all feel ashamed.

This is the reason the community is going to hell. You all need to grow up. Especially ACK.

If you see something that you don't like, you shouldn't feel constrained about voicing your thoughts, but the modding community at large doesn't need this.

[By the way, ACK, if you think Reborn is a bad mod, you apparently haven't actually seen a bad mod.]
