

---

Subject: The Historic fact that Bordom wrote
Posted by warranto on Thu, 30 Sep 2004 03:33:19 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Meh, I'm bored, so I thought I'd entertain you all.

Unknown fact: Canada's original spelling was Cnd (pronounced Khund)

How did it get to be spelled as it is today?

Back at the first ever map makers convention, the representative from Cnd was asked to spell out the Country's name. He stood up and stated, "C, eh; N, eh; D, eh".

And so now you know.

---