Subject: Re: OT:Signature
Posted by Sir Phoenixx on Fri, 04 Apr 2003 13:50:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

maj.boredomsbhkilled25Im not talking about a signature for posting but when i scan a real signature and email it to someone. when the other person gets it, it comes out as a image type file. and my friend wants to have that signature there for whenever he emails something. but i can't figure out how to turn a image type file into a word file without getting that computer babble stuff. i know how to get a signature for an email but i just dont know how to turn it into a word file. You cant "turn" an Image file into a Word file. You can add an image file to a word file. Thats your only option.

Actually, you can get a special program that can look at an image and create a text file from the text in the image. (Like if you have an image with "I own you!" in text in the image, put it through the program and it will create a text file with "I own you!" in it.)