liberator

Were I in the Reborn mod I would have kicked Renardin to the curb months ago as he is apparently the major stumbling block in their path. It(Reborn) has potential to rival RenAlert in cool factor, and possibly popularity, if they can get their ducks in a row and resolves their issues.

Without what I did since december 2003, Reborn would be death. Kicking me would have one result : No more Reborn.

Once I wanted to leave Reborn ( that was before Permagrin and Nightcrawler joined, they gave a second hope for the mod ). Darkomen told me this :

Quote:It would be a dead hit to the mod if you leave...

I am not the best texurer, I do what I can in my free time, I have a life to manage ( studies, gf, sports and so on... ) If I can find a better texturer, I will hire him. Until we find a better than me, I will do my job for reborn and vengeance team and if Reborn fails ( what I doubt because we are working hard on it ), I will give all my time to vengeance, wic is what I am supposed to do for my friend TheKGBspy once Reborn stuff are done.

You talk about maturity ? Ok, I am 23 and I can read... You should browse the forums @ <http://www.cncreborn.com> before saying such things.

Thank you.
