If intelligence and honour come in to it, there should be only 2 or 3 n00b cannon snipers available at one time, and standard soldiers should get an extra single point of armour so that they can sustain a n00b cannon bullet.

you simply can't trust people not to do the shit they do now, such as running people over in apcs instead of finish them off, and hide under the "i'm not breaking any rules" clause.
