AircraftkillerI want you to tell the President that you think Hershey is spelled "Hearshy" and take a picture of the reaction he gives you.

I will so laugh my ass off if he tells you "No child left behind didn't work for you, I see."

If we are talking about "President" Bush I don't think the guy would notice, would probably just shake his hand and say "Stay in school!"

Plus why would anyone want to see Bush speak, it's like trying to read cowmisfit's writing/typing.
:twisted:
