icedog90 You guys aren't listening. I'm trying to warn you oblivion, Valve made a warez version as a trap and experiment. They even announced it. People who use it will be banned from Steam eventually and will not be able to register on Steam again, meaning you won't be able to play Half-Life 2 again, even if you bought it.

Valve didn't release any kind of warez version. They just tracked who was downloading the crack that was already out, and then banned all 20,000 of their accounts.
