You don't get it. You log in. Steam doesn't care if two or 500,000 people are logged in at the steam My Games screen. Only when you attempt to play CS:S does it flag you. Like I said these people all just log in and play HL2 with impunity. That's the big flaw of steam's I'm talking about. Icedog go test it, give your username and password to a friend and have them log in, then you log in. Surprise surprise, nothing happens. Just don't both play CS:S at the same time.
