LaeubiThis can't be fixed and Pings on Sattelite are always high.

The Signal goes to your Satelite ISP, is send to the satelite, then send to you.
its a physical limit.

And in worst cases, it's sent from you to satellite, then from satellite to service provider, then back to satellite and from the satellite to you again.

As Läubi said, satellite connections don't really work for online gamers as the pings are always huge.
