Hi Guys,

Its about time i joined up here for a chat, discussion and for me to generally submit pleas of help.

Last Winter we had 2 working copies on Renegade, we enjoyed playing online me and the other half that is. Then one day one of the cd's shattered in the computer!!!

We were lucky enough to get another one out of the shops before they all ran out - not a very easy game to find over here in N Ireland at the moment. Anyway today i've discovered the one i've been using has cracked from the inner of the cd

So now i'm down to one cd - no more family entertainment until i spy another cd somewhere - anyway... I've seen talk mentioned of a non cd patch if it exists will someone please point me in the right direction for it.

Also while i'm here, the new maps, i've downloaded them last night, installed them and got them working ok, I take it you can't use a server that doesn't run them - stands to reason i guess, but later on i couldn't get renegade to run at all, I'm not saying it was this installation I think some bastard has hacked in via a pop up but we've had serious problems getting anything to work and i had to reinstall renegade 3 times today the cracked red cd was the last straw!!

Please tell me there is nothing wrong with the maps and i can insert them again when ive got this pc playing fair again.
