Some time ago I started collecting a bunch of skins and ended up with a 200-250MB big .rar file.

Instead of just delete it and a hell of alot skins just goes away (over 1000) in vain I wanna share them to the community, what rights do I have to share them?

I dont have any of the creators approval for shareing the work. Do I need?
50% of the files include .txt files with credit the creator the other 50% does not.

The skins include tanks, inf, buildings, doors, bullets, ion/nuke, weapons, mines, sniper scope and whatever else you can think of.

The file is over 1 year old and was supposed to include "approved" models for renguard when it was planned.
