
Subject: CW revival

Posted by Spoony_old on Thu, 09 Dec 2004 22:29:16 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

j_ball430He's not well respected on these forums
...and... you are?

If you believe an opinion is worthless unless you registered before a particular date or your post count is over a particular figure, then I feel nothing for you but the most abject pity.

j_ball430I didn't start flaming him. Again, I had just asked a question..
No.

You "asked a question" which was directly intended to flame (something you clearly aren't adept at, I must say) someone who had said absolutely nothing offensive, and to further demonstrate your stupidity, YOU CAME TO THE CONCLUSION THAT HE WAS THE ONE BEING AN "ASSHOLE"

j_ball430The amount of time you've been here, helps to somewhat determine the amount of respect you get.
I've been on this forum longer than my post count and my registration date would imply, so you've embarrassed yourself there. (again)

Has it occurred to you that while you've been posting garbage on this forum and believing the amount of garbage you've posted proves you're a better person, BiGPooLoG has actually been playing the game which this forum revolves around?

j_ball430You said that saying "jelos" was a private joke. I'm not a part of that, so don't expect me to get it since I'm not.
To be brutally frank, I really don't expect you to understand anything at all.

j_ball430Yes, I have. You just seem to think that everything I say is irrational.. "Think" is the wrong word. "Think" implies uncertainty. The fact that you have spectacularly failed to raise a valid point, is no uncertain matter.

j_ball430you just seem to ignore all my posts.
I'm not ignoring them, I'm saying they are complete rubbish. There's a difference.

j_ball430I was just making a point
In the interests of accuracy, I implore you to insert the word "trying" in that sentence.
