SpoonyWhere the FUCK did you get that idea from? Have you ever actually played Renegade?

No, I've never played the game before in my life, I just like to hang around message boards and talk about the intricate details of it.

You were comparing the Ramjet to the likes of Mendoza/Sydney and Railgun/PIC. These are both more effective at taking out lightly armored vehicles when they're in range. If you mean conventional ones like rocket soldiers then no, characters that cost approximately $400 are not as effective against light armor as the Ramjet is.
