We're assuming no one else is trying to kill this 500 sniper? In reality there are gonna be other n00bjettors on the enemy, so he will have a withering hail of bodyshots to face. APCs coming after him. Who knows, there might also be a decent sniper on the opposition as well.

You are completely missing the point. The point is, and always has been, that the fact you can kill a Havoc with one shot still means they are horribly overpowered.
