Erg... I wish it was happier...

Okay, I open the Half Life 2 box up at my computer desk this morning, and what do I find? Two CD's, one broken and scratched, the other from the dead Dreamcast system. I'm thinking WTF??? So now, because out there someone shoplifted, I'm stuck with two disks. God damn it, if they don't get it free one way, they'll get it free the other.

All I wanted for Christmas was HL2, and for a happy Christmas, but some jackass just ruined it, at least the HL2 part.
