Hmm well.

In that situation one of two things will happen. Either you ("you" meaning Nod") will defeat all the meds and the APC, but you'll lose one or two tanks in the process. These players can just remote themselves to get back to base, and see to the beacon.

The other thing would be if GDI took the field back (losing a few meds in the process). In which case, everyone on Nod would find themselves back at base, someone can disarm the beacon, and the others can buy more arties/lights
