Hehe, thats pretty funny. But Gen isn't getting nearly as much attention as Vice City (kickass game, if you don't have it then GET IT DAMMIT!). Anyway, I do remember Germany having problems with some WW2 games, pretty stupid though if you ask me.

And there is some truth to the argument games can push people over the edge, but you have to be pretty fucked (so happy that didn't get censored) to be that impressionable.
