In this case he is right though (wow, did I just say cowmisfit was right about something?). Public figures are held to a different standard than the rest of the universe. The Clinton impeachment is one example, this is another, and I'm sure if Bush was caught wearing a turban, people would make similar comments as well. Different people, different standards. For better or for worse, that's the life of a public figure. (I wonder what would happen if Bill Gates was caught using something OTHER than a windows OS on his computer).
