We do understand that different people in the world have different views. However, just because you are American doesn't make your opinion worth more than theirs. So take Java's advice: Get off your "I'm holier than thou" cloud and face reality, because all you are spewing is bullshit that you cannot back up with facts, unlike most of the people you are arguing.

Honestly, grow the fuck up. You aren't better than anybody in here.
